Build your dream home with the help of a self build mortgage. Specialist self build mortgages don't work like regular high street mortgages as the funds are released in stages throughout the build. As such they can be challenging to source.

When arranging a self-build mortgage, there are several fees involved throughout the process. While the interest rates are often comparable to standard mortgages, there are other costs specific to self-builds.

The Mayflower team are passionate about empowering self-builders. In fact, half of the team are self-builders themselves, so they truly understand the pressures and challenges clients face.
